

Further Study to be Made by Council

CATV Action Is Delayed

By D. KELLY SCRUTON

City Council spent three hours Monday night listening to a review of proposals by three companies seeking a franchise to install a Community Antenna Television System (CATV) in Sedalia. A fourth firm which had indicated it might offer a proposal, has pulled an about face and now opposes the installation of such a system in Sedalia.

It was a session of bickering and "nippin'" by lawyers and others who appeared on the council floor for and against CATV. After Council members had heard a repeat introduction of representatives of the three firms wanting a franchise, action was postponed until council can hold a special meeting for discussion.

CATV came before Council several months ago when two firms, the United Video System, represented by James E. Durley and William F. Brown; and the Meredith Broadcasting Co., owners of KCMO-TV, Kansas City, represented by Fred F. Wesner, appeared for a hearing. At that time the Jefferson Television Co., of Jefferson City, owners of KRCG-TV, Jefferson City and KMOS-TV, Sedalia, appeared and indicated interest in bidding for a franchise.

The Jefferson Television Co., asked for a delay of 90-days until a survey could be made of Sedalia to ascertain the value of CATV here. The delay was approved by the council.

When Mayor L. L. Studer called the matter up for discussion, he said it was time to bring the discussion up on Community Antenna Television. He had City Clerk Ralph Dedrick, read a letter of opposition from the Jefferson Television Co., and then a letter he had received from the mayor of Falls City, Neb., indicating the success of the system there. A letter from KDRO radio opposing the plan was also read.

Letters from the Jefferson Television Co., reported on a survey made by telephone, indicating an interest in the system by 407, 3,353 not interested; 295 didn't know; and 69 others no comment. Later in the meeting another figure mentioned indicated 588 were interested out of 4,924 calls made.

Mayor Studer then said there was another firm interested, the Commonwealth Theatre Company, who it was pointed out has a system working at Manhattan.

One CATV Plan Would Pay Sedalia

Supplementing Monday night's discussion of CATV at city council meeting, Commonwealth Theatres, Inc., today announced through its attorney, J. R. Fritz, that in proposing Community Antenna Television for Sedalia it is seriously seeking from the City Council a non-exclusive license to establish such a CATV system to serve the citizens of Sedalia who may desire it.

"The proposed cable system would consist of the most modern and up to date equipment available and designed by the most capable engineers in this field," Fritz stated.

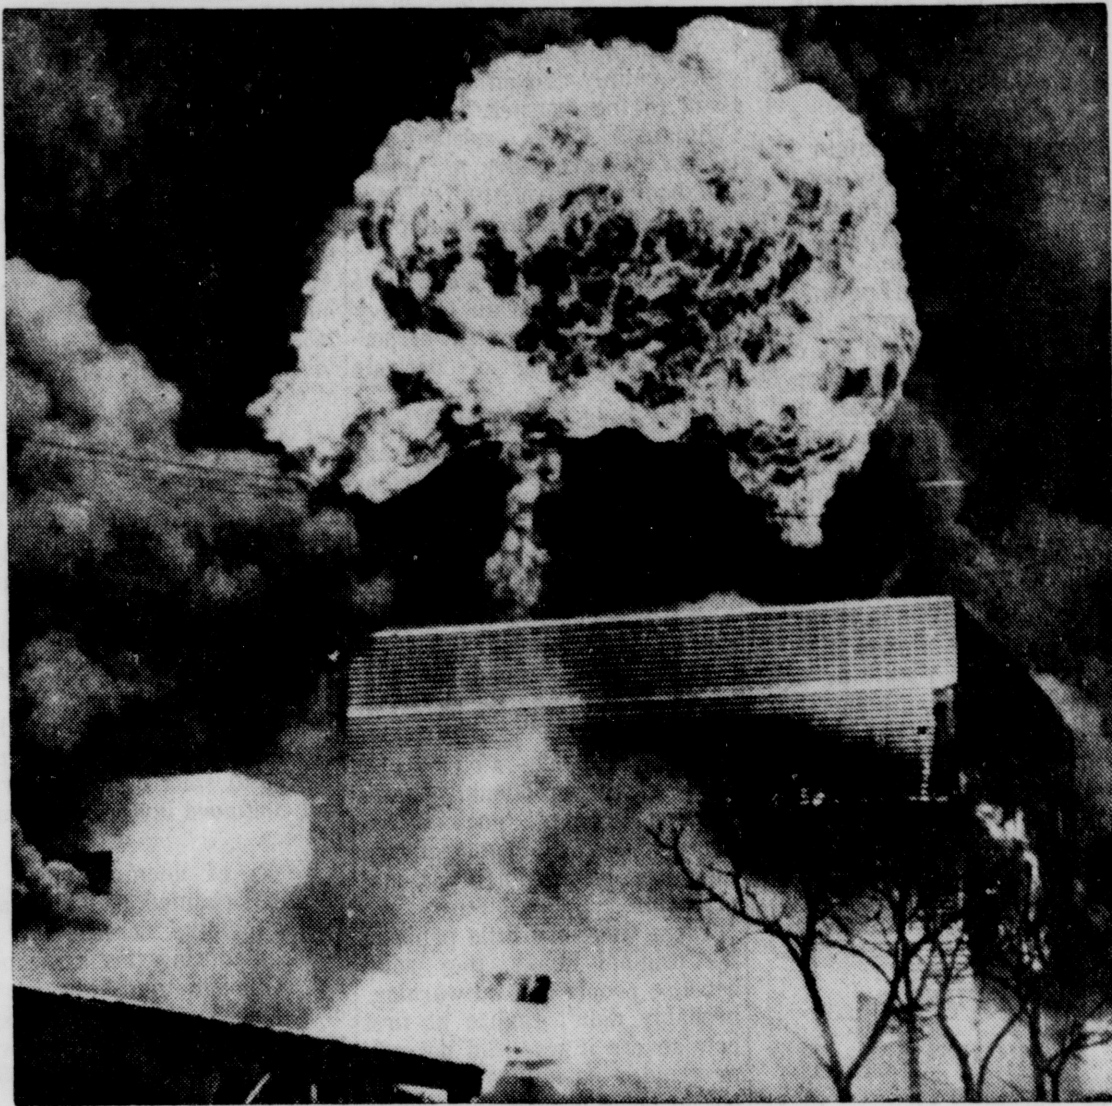

"The city would receive from Commonwealth for this license a gross receipts tax, and it is suggested that the tax rate begin at two per cent and increase by a half per cent each year after the system is in operation until a maximum rate of five per cent is paid to the city.

"If the City Council grants a license to Commonwealth, an engineering survey will be done immediately and followed by construction within a year with a total investment of almost a half million dollars.

"Commonwealth is experienced in the field of CATV having participated in the operation of this system at Manhattan, Kan., for the past four years where it has been widely accepted and successful.

"Also, Commonwealth, a Missouri corporation, has been in the theater business here in Sedalia since 1948.

"The proposed cost to customers under the Commonwealth plan would be an installation fee of from $10 to $20 and a monthly charge of $5.95 which is realistic and without any gimmicks."

Six Bidges Are Blown Up

Blow to Cuba Roads

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Anti-Castro commandos of a revolutionary group headed by Bay of Pigs invasion leader Manuel Artime were reported today by a high member of the organization to have blown up six highway bridges in Cuba.

The source, a member of Artime's Revolutionary Recovery Movement which last Wednesday raided an eastern Cuba sugar mill, said Artime would issue a communique somewhere in Central America this afternoon.

He said the commandos entered Cuba for the operation.

The spokesman said the bridges destroyed were over strategic roads. He did not pinpoint them.

Such destruction at strategic spots, exiles said, could hamstring heavy Castro troop and weapons movements which recently arrived exiles have told of seeing in Cuba's coastal and mountain areas.

MRR said in its "first war communique" last week that its forces destroyed a sugar mill at Pilon, on the Oriente Province south coast, and occupied Pilon for three hours.

Havana Radio today reiterated previous claims that the Artime men did not enter Cuba.

"They shelled the sugar mill from a boat, then fled," said a broadcast monitored here.

Refugees have reported the country is on a virtual wartime emergency basis because an exile group announced plans to be fighting on Cuban soil by Wednesday.

Sea Horror Related By Ship's Mate

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — The first mate of the flame-wrecked Norwegian freighter Sandanger told today of a dramatic but losing fight to check a fire that forced most of the crew to abandon ship.

The ship drifted helplessly 20 miles off the desolate coast of Baja California this morning as a tug stood by waiting to board and try to learn the fate of the skipper and nine others missing.

Forty-five others were rescued Monday by the German freighter Bodenstein, which is returning here.

The first mate said the flames were so furious "it was impossible for anyone to remain alive" after crewmen were forced to take to lifeboats.

The Los Angeles Herald-Examiner interviewed the mate, identified only as a Norwegian named Kruger, by radiotelephone from the tug Sea Eagle 450 miles southeast of here. His account, translated from Norwegian, said the fire call sounded about 2 o'clock

Filibuster End Is Near On Rights

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators backing the civil rights bill predicted today a package of amendments proposed by Senate leaders had picked up votes toward ending a Southern filibuster.

On their part, Southern senators said the proposed changes would make the bill "even more obnoxious," and they'd go down the line fighting it.

"I feel these amendments have won some cloture votes," Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., floor manager of the bill said after a meeting of 47 of the 67 Democratic senators.

Humphrey said the amendments would provide a bill all could live with and "it will be a good bill."

He spoke of the amendments as a compromise to get support to end the filibusters.

"Cloture and improving the bill," was the way he described some 70 amendments worked out by a bipartisan leadership and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., captain of the Dixie bloc, said it was the consensus of the Southerners that the amendments would make the bill more obnoxious.

He told newsmen also that the Southerners had decided at their weekly caucus to permit no votes on amendments to the bill for the remainder of this week.

Sponsors of the bill had forecast that a vote might be allowed on the pending jury trial amendment after today's Maryland primary.

Russell said "we are not counting on this in our strategy here" although he conceded the Dixie forces would welcome any psychological boost from a strong showing in Maryland by Alabama Gov. George Wallace.

Ordinance On Stadium Is Passed

City Council Monday night approved an ordinance authorizing a quit-claim deed, which would relinquish any City claim, to the real estate on which Jennie Jaynes Lewis Stadium is located in case the property is purchased by the Sedalia Board of Education.

The real estate, along with the tennis courts and Little League Stadium, was deeded by the City to the Jennie Jaynes Lewis Foundation years ago, with the stipulation that if the property is ever sold, it would revert back to the City first. The tennis court and Little League Stadium area were turned back to the City by the Foundation several years ago.

In the Monday night action, the City, in effect, is allowing the trustees of the Jennie Jaynes Lewis Foundation to deal directly with the Board of Education for sale of the Stadium.

The reversion clause is customary in cases where real estate is transferred from one party to another for public use, to prevent the recipient of the transfer from later selling the property for a high profit.

Although the sale has not yet been made, negotiations are being conducted, according to Dr. T. J. Norris, superintendent of schools, acting as spokesman for the Board of Education.

Although a sale price has not been announced, the City's action Monday night leads to the conjecture that the negotiating price is near what the property cost the foundation.

Income Gains Steadily; Up $2.2 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Personal income continued to climb at a steady rate in April, the Commerce Department said today.

It reached a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $483.1 billion, a gain of $2.2 billion over March and about $25 billion higher than April 1963.

Personal income includes wages, salaries, rents, dividends, profits from a business, profession, or farm, and other payments to individuals.

Personal income totaled $463 billion in 1963.

Wages and salaries reached an annual rate of $327 billion in April, accounting for $1.5 billion of the increase.

Besides the payroll advances, there were small gains in interest, transfer payments and dividends.

1,458 Subscribers Purchase Book 'Torch Is Passed'

The Associated Press has advised The Democrat-Capital that readers of the two Sedalia newspapers have purchased 1,458 copies of the book on President Kennedy's assassination — The Torch Is Passed.

Final tabulation on local subscribers total purchases of the book through coupons in the two papers is not expected to be completed for about two months.

Orders should be addressed to The Torch Is Passed, The Sedalia (Mo.) Democrat, Box 350, Poughkeepsie, New York. Orders should not be mailed to the paper here in Sedalia but must be sent to the address in New York state. Cost of each book is $2 and mailing is being handled by the publishers through a contractor.

Hard Push For Funds To Aid Viet War

Johnson Sends Top Policy Makers In To Boost Request

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson sent top makers of military and foreign policy to Capitol Hill today to support his request for an extra $125 million in aid for South Viet Nam.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union charged today the Johnson administration is seeking $125 million in new aid for South Viet Nam to extend bloodshed and aggression in Southeast Asia. The United States replied that U.S. aid was directed only at saving that country from a Communist takeover.

"Increased Communist terror requires it," the President said Monday in a special message to Congress asking for an additional $55 million in military aid and $70 million in economic assistance.

Republican members of the House Foreign Affairs Committee are likely to go along with Johnson.

"This nation should not be penny wise and pound foolish on this thing," said Republican Rep. Robert Barry of New York. "For us to nit-pick at this stage would be most unwise."

Still, to play it safe, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and foreign aid director David E. Bell were sent before the committee.

An ardent Republican economist, Rep. H. R. Gross of Iowa, said the boost would be hard to vote against.

"We want them to have what they say they need," he said. "But by the same token, I don't want it to go down the drain as supplies and everything else have gone down the drain in Viet Nam."

"All I can say is, I want to hear their reasons and it better be good," Gross added.

US Not Ruling Out Laos Crisis Action

Hint of Military Move To Preserve Neutrality

WASHINGTON (AP) — A spokesman said today the United States is "not ruling out" any measures — possibly including military moves — which it may find necessary "to preserve the neutrality and independence of Laos."

That was the answer given when the State Department's press officer was asked at a news conference whether the United States might send troops into Thailand as was done in a period of crisis in Laos two years ago.

Press officer Robert J. McCloskey said the latest reports to the State Department show that Communist Pathet Lao attacks are continuing in the Plaine des Jarres against forces loyal to the neutralist government of Premier Souvanna Phouma.

Other officials said the attacks could result in destroying the neutralist forces under Gen. Kong Le and wrecking the whole internationally agreed neutralization program in Laos.

McCloskey declared the Pathet Lao attacks, which officials say are supported by battle-hardened elements from Communist North Viet Nam "have seriously threatened Souvanna Phouma's government and the fabric of the Geneva agreements" — neutralizing Laos in 1962.

So far, McCloskey said, U.S. activity has been concentrated on diplomatic efforts to stop the fighting. The United States has alerted its Southeast Asia Treaty Organization allies, appealed to Britain and the Soviet Union for cooperation, and asked Britain, France and Pakistan to intercede with Communist China.

New Attack Expected On Laos Post

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Neutralist Gen. Kong Le dug in today to await a new onslaught by pro-Communist Pathet Lao, who forced him from his command post east of the Plaine des Jarres.

The neutralist commander and his force set up headquarters at Ban Khong, several miles southwest of his former headquarters at Muong Phan. The latter was overrun by Pathet Lao Monday after a two-day mortar and artillery bombardment.

Western military observers who flew to Ban Khong said Kong Le's troops had staged "an orderly withdrawal" to the hilltop village. They said it appeared more defensible by infantry than Muong Phan.

Chartered American planes airlifted refugees and wounded to Vientiane, 110 miles southwest of the Plaine des Jarres, and flew in medical supplies as Kong Le prepared for a new Red attack.

US Policy Under Fire From Reds

Aggression Charge By Cambodia To Security Council

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union unleashed a sharp attack today on U.S. policy in Southeast Asia at the very outset of debate in the U.N. Security Council on charges of aggression brought by Cambodia against the United States.

Soviet Delegate Nikolai T. Fedorenko did so in challenging the right of a delegate from South Viet Nam to take part in the debate. But the council overrode his objections and voted 9-2 to let the South Viet Nam representative participate.

Only Communist Czechoslovakia supported the Soviet demand.

Fedorenko declared that the United States was responsible for alleged acts of aggression committed against Cambodia.

"It is the United States that sent its troops into the so-called Republic of South Viet Nam," Fedorenko asserted. "No representative of that regime should be seated here."

U.S. Ambassador Charles W. Yost said that council rules provide for seating of a representative involved in an issue before it.

He said the only equitable procedure for the council to follow would be to seat the representative.

P. H. Am Khac Rau, charge d'affaires for South Viet Nam in Washington, was invited to the council table.

Bomb Rocks Long's Office In Columbia

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — A bomb shattered the real estate office of Elwood Long, former state purchasing agent, on the northwest side of Columbia early today.

It was the third explosion to damage or destroy property owned by Long in less than a month. The first two occurred at the Long home in Fayette, Mo. No one has been hurt in any of the blasts.

The state highway patrol said the bomb that ripped the Town and Country real estate office shortly after 3 a. m. (CST) today was placed at the rear of the one-story frame building between a screen door and a door leading into the center hall of the structure.

Debris was blown through the roof, windows on the front were broken and the rear of the building was almost completely destroyed. Damage was estimated at about $8,000.

Long was reported in St. Louis.

The first bombing of Long's property occurred April 24 when a charge exploded beneath the seat of a pickup truck parked in the driveway at his home in Fayette. The Longs were in St. Louis.

The second charge exploded beneath the seat of Long's 1963 Oldsmobile on April 28. The blast destroyed two cars parked in the garage adjoining Long's home, wrecked the garage and damaged the dining room of the $50,000 home. Long and his wife were asleep at the far end of the house and were not hurt.

All three explosions occurred between midnight and 3:30 a. m. Following the second bombing, Long said "two or three people could be mad at me. I don't know who did it—I haven't the slightest idea."

He also said "twice is too many," and asked Sheriff Delgar Wells to set up an overnight watch at his home.

Long resigned as state purchasing agent in 1959 after newspaper criticism of his official conduct. Gov. John M. Dalton, then attorney general, investigated the charges. He reported Long had engaged in some questionable bidding practices but found no violations of law.

Ring-tailed 'Puppy'

ADDS RACCOON TO HER BROOD—"Little Bit," a long haired dachshund owned by Aic and Mrs. Robert Oder, Route 2, Knob Noster, has adopted a male raccoon along with her two puppies. Her puppies were born April 23 and she brought in the coon (at left) two weeks ago from the vicinity of a barn near the Oder home. Mrs. Oder confides four-year-old "Little Bit" really has the mother instinct. She acted as midwife to three litters of kittens and accepted a young fox as a playmate while the family was stationed with the Air Force in Madrid, Spain. A few days before her present litter of puppies was born she showed evidence of having been suckled and smelled strongly of skunk. Mrs. Oder believes she mothered some baby skunks for a few days. Conservation Agent Chester Vermaas estimated the coon to be 2½ to 3 weeks of age and said its eyes will be opening soon. Monday and soon the whole amidships was aflame.

"The passengers' quarters, the captain's deck and the bridge were all a solid flame," he added.

"After the fire became so intense we figured the only way the passengers could be saved was over the side through port holes. We lowered two life rafts aft so the passengers could jump and be picked up."

"The smoke was dense and suffocating and we were forced to retire toward the stern. We checked for anybody who could get out. We could see through the windows that the passenger quarters were a solid flame."

"We were in dense smoke and heat and in danger of losing the lifeboats alongside. There were heavy swells running. We decided to abandon ship after deciding there was no chance of anybody being alive."

Slight damage was recorded to a U.S. Air Force truck at 9:42 a.m. Tuesday when the generator shorted in the 200 block of South Lamine. City firemen answered the alarm.

Aftershocks Create Fear In Alaska

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—Residents of this shattered city, who showed almost no panic in the Alaska earthquake of March 27, have become tense and apprehensive on a steady series of aftershocks.

Their reactions have not been unusual, said doctors, psychiatrists and a psychologist in an Associated Press survey.

"I think everybody reacted quite calmly and adjusted quite well to the disaster," said Dr. William A. Davis, assistant professor of psychology at Alaska Methodist University. "There has been very little maladaptive or maladjusted behavior."

Private physicians said there has been a moderate to heavy increase in the number of persons complaining of nervous problems.

"The earthquake had a sizable impact emotionally," said Dr. J. R. Langdon, a psychiatrist. "But I suspect it will not prove to have been real bad."

Another psychiatrist, Dr. W. J. Rader, said people "rose to the occasion because it was a clear and present danger and they could address themselves to necessities that had to be taken care of."

The earthquake actually helped some emotionally upset persons, said the doctors, because it enabled them to forget their real or imagined personal problems.

There was very little panic in the original quake, they said, because people had no warning, probably didn't realize at first how severe it was, did not witness many casualties and were not in large crowds that generate mass terror.

That the aftershocks have been causing acute anxiety was indicated in a survey of 180 residents by Davis' university class. Many said they felt panicky.

The U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey at Fairbanks said it appeared that aftershocks strong enough to be felt could be expected for several weeks.

Langdon said that for some residents the quake was followed by excessive sleeping and fatigue.

Residents are becoming angry about the impact of the quake, he said, and probably will become depressed this summer or fall if there is lack of progress in solving problems.

Washington Capsules

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

POVERTY — EDUCATION:

"The roots of poverty in this country are, simply, lack of education and the deprivation it brings," Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz told the National Committee for Support of the Public School Monday night.

Wirtz said a study of 2,500 young men who had failed the Selective Service mental test showed that 80 per cent of them were dropouts, and 40 per cent of the dropouts had stopped school at the eighth grade or below.

RECONNAISSANCE PLANE: The American RB66 reconnaissance plane shot down by the Russians in March took photographs over East Germany without the crew realizing they were in Red territory, the Washington Evening Star reported Monday.

The three men aboard the jet were Capt. David I. Holland of Holland, Minn., the pilot; Capt. Melvin J. Kessler of Philadelphia, the check navigator, and Lt. Harold W. Welch of Detroit, the navigator.

RESEARCH URGED: A crash program of research to find new methods of controlling plant and animal pests to replace hazardous chemical pesticides was urged today by the National Agricultural Research Advisory Committee.

Electrocuted While Helping Baby Bird

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A 17-year-old boy was electrocuted Monday night while trying to return a baby bird to its nest.

Kenneth Hartman (of 8605 East Ninety-second Terrace) touched a power line 30 feet above the ground while climbing a tree behind his home.

He fell to a lower limb. His step-father, Charles Hartman, a city fireman, removed the body from the tree.

Labor Demand Dips Slightly Under '63 Total

Demand for workers in Sedalia and Pettis County during April remained same as March but declined compared to April 1963 by 12 per cent, according to the local state employment office.

Placements of individuals in jobs increased during April compared to March by 20 per cent. Compared to April 1963, 9 per cent decline. Work registrations were considerably below March of 1964 and April of 1963.

Initial claims for unemployment insurance in Sedalia and Pettis County increased by 18 per cent compared to last month. The increase due primarily to start of new quarter and continued lay offs in missile project.

Weeks of unemployment insurance claimed, Sedalia and Pettis County, increased by 13 per cent during this same period. Although there was an increase in weeks claimed, payments for four county area showed decrease from $132,580.71 to $127,493.26.

The unemployment insurance picture should improve due to weather conditions permitting considerably more activity in construction industry and return of a large number of seasonal workers to jobs.

High school graduates and other students are beginning to register for summer employment. Employers can contact the local office, TA 6-8184, for summer job applicants, also, if interested in obtaining workers for full time job vacancies.

Flurry of Shots As Gunmen Rob Store in City

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Three gunmen fired a flurry of wild shots in a holdup at the Brooklyn grocery and liquor store Monday night.

A co-owner, John Giamalva, 38, was wounded in the right shoulder. His condition was reported satisfactory at a hospital.

About 10 customers were in the place when the men entered. Preston Marlow, 39, a clerk, said one of the men "pulled a gun on me and said 'This is a stickup.' He shot at me before I could even get to the cash register. He was nervous."

The shot missed Marlow, who threw some money on the counter.

The man grabbed the money and fired another shot into a cigar case, while one of the other robbers shot Giamalva. Then they fled, shouting.

"They shot as they were going out the door and they shot all the way up the street," Marlow said. One bullet pierced the store's front door.

Reporting to the Agriculture Department—which created it—the committee said pesticides are essential, at least in the foreseeable future, for efficient production, storage and distribution of foods and other farm products.

The amount of loot wasn't estimated.

ASUNCION, Paraguay (AP)—A plot to overthrow the Paraguayan government was scotched with the arrest of nine Paraguayans and an Argentinean, the government announced Monday night.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: I am going with an interesting man who happens to be very good-looking. Something about his looks bothers me and I'd like your advice.

Everett has very bushy eyebrows. They come together, instead of separating, as most people's eyebrows do. This gives him a fierce look.

Several weeks ago I hinted that I'd like to tweeze that little space in the middle so he would look as if he had two eyebrows instead of one. He laughed and said, "Men don't tweeze their eyebrows. I'd feel like a sissy." Honestly, Ann, Everett would look so much better if he'd let me yank out about twelve hairs. Please tell me how to go about getting him to see it my way.—READY FOR THE PULL.

Dear Ready: You lost when you used the word tweezers. Most men think of tweezers as something for the girls.

I agree that two eyebrows are better than one, and that something should be done. But you'd better stay out of the act.

Urge Everett to ask his barber if he will snip a few of the wild hairs with a specially designed scissors. Many men have this done regularly. Eventually, the barber will get to the center of the problem.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a 15-year-old girl with a story to tell. Last Saturday I was invited to the home of a girl who moved here recently from Worcester, Mass. Her mother asked me to stay through dinner and I accepted.

I noticed that this girl and her mother treated each other like friends instead of relatives. I felt embarrassed when I heard her talk so politely to her mother.

ther because I remembered how I talked to mine.

When this girl's mother got up from the dinner table to fill the milk glasses, she said, "Sit still, Mom, I'll do it." I then remembered how MY mother had to tell me three times to fill the water glasses before she got any action.

I started on my new plan as soon as I got home. The first thing I did was to straighten my closet and clean my bookcase.

The next day I got up earlier than usual and did all the things I was supposed to do. I spoke very politely to mom and noticed that in return she was especially nice to me. And it's been that way ever since.

Life is so much more pleasant when people get along together. It's just a matter of respecting one another. I know that mothers don't enjoy yelling at kids any more than kids enjoy being yelled at. They WANT to have peace in the family, but their kids have to meet them half way.—GLAD I LEARNED.

Dear Glad: A voice from the ranks. Hooray and thanks.

Dear Ann Landers: The neighbor boy was over here playing in our recreation room when he should have been at home in bed. I noticed his face was very red. When I felt his forehead and discovered it was burning up I sent him home and telephoned his mother.

The neighbor boy was back in school after five days but our son caught his flu bug and we had to take him to the hospital. The bill was $160.

Do you feel we should send the bill to the neighbor?—FURIOUS.

Dear Furious: Please don't make jackasses of yourselves. Kids who play together catch things from one another. This comes under the heading of "Hazards Of Growing Up."

Could be that next week the Neighbor boy will catch something from YOUR child.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Miss Loretta Louise Grinstead, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Grinstead, 700 North Prospect, became the bride of Mr. Ray Eldon Kendrick, son of Mrs. Ruth Kendrick, 1002 East 13th, in a double ring ceremony at ten o'clock Saturday morning, May 2, at Sacred Heart Church.

The Rev. Frank C. Laudick heard the marriage vows before the altar rail, which was decorated with white gladioli and white chrysanthemums on either side.

Mrs. Earl Paxton played the organ and accompanied Mr. Al Domingue, who sang "On This Day, Oh Beautiful Mother," and "Ave Maria."

The bride, who was escorted to the altar by her father, wore a wedding dress of rose-patterned French lace over satin, styled with a scalloped neckline and pointed wrist length sleeves. The fitted bodice was accented with a cording of satin around the waist. The full pleated skirt was in ballet length. Her bridal veil of bouffant French illusion fell from a pearl tiara. She carried a cascade of white roses and white satin streamers. Her pearl jewelry was a gift from the bridegroom.

Miss Joyce Brosch was maid of honor. She wore a street length pink dress of chiffon with a full skirt, sleeveless fitted bodice with streamers accenting the back. She wore a matching headband with a short veil and carried a colonial bouquet of white iceberg pompon chrysanthemums tied with pink satin ribbon.

Mr. Johnny Wolf was best man.

Mr. Larry Grinstead and Mr. Jon Grinstead, brothers of the bride, were ushers.

The bride's mother wore a pink mesh dress with navy accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore a light blue linen dress with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in Sacred Heart School Cafeteria. Assisting at the reception was Miss Linda Grose, who attended gifts. Cake was served by Mrs. Leonard Rehak, aunt of the bride. Punch was served by Mrs. Jon Grinstead. Guests were assisted in registering by Mrs. Larry Grinstead.

The bride table was covered with a pink cloth with white net overlay. Pink satin bows and pink candles in candelabra were at the end of the table. The table was centered with a two tiered wedding cake decorated with pink roses with a bride and bridegroom on the highest layer.

The bride and bridegroom are employed at J. A. Lamy Manufacturing Co., and will reside in Sedalia.

The bride was honored at a luncheon at C. W. Flower Co. tea room by several friends, and a breakfast at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Brosch with close relatives attending.

Prepare for Flag Display

The origin of Flag Day dates back 187 years and soon we will be observing this occasion June 14 when citizens will be encouraged to display the emblem of our unity.

However, there is a day intervening on which Old Glory should be brought out from the drawer or wherever it is stored. That day is Memorial Day.

This year the holiday will come on a Saturday. Because it is a legal public holiday most business activities will cease. If citizens follow the usual pattern they will be off to the Lake of the Ozarks, other recreation spots, or overland to visit relatives elsewhere since the week end of two days permit this.

Those who are disposed to restrict their activities to areas closer home will use Sedalia's parks for picnic purposes following visits to cemeteries to pay respect to the dead.

A threadbare theme is encouragement of citizens to display the flag on every occasion appropriately designated for such recognition. It seems these peaceful days that considerable patriotic emotionalism is required for public response to the duty of flag displays. Then those who are flag conscious often forget to put it up. Others who would do so simply forget to buy a flag even though they have been thinking about acquiring one.

So this comment is in the nature of a reminder to prepare for the display of our flag on Memorial Day, Flag Day, Fourth of July all coming up soon.

Surely from all responsible persons it can be expected they will see to it that the Stars and Stripes are waving in the breeze from all public buildings on these stated occasions.

Citizens, generally, can do no less.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

A Contrast in Legal Proceedings

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Two heart-sickening legal proceedings are taking place in opposite parts of the world today which have some bearing on each other. One is in Frankfurt, Germany, where the local killers of Auschwitz are on trial; the other in Washington, D. C., where the war-seized property of I. G. Farben is being disposed of.

In Frankfurt, gruesome testimony tells of special rations of liquor and cigarettes for Nazis who performed extra work in killing Jewish prisoners. A Polish doctor who served as a clerk at Auschwitz told of keeping the records of 130,000 male inmates killed. "Our files grew so fat that when I was once ordered to take them to the chief camp doctor, I had to use a wheelbarrow," he testified.

In Washington, in the other court proceeding, Attorney General Robert Kennedy has authorized the sale of General Aniline and Film, the very valuable property once owned by I. G. Farben, back, in part, to the Swiss Company which served as the dummy for I. G. Farben.

It was, of course, I. G. Farben which used the Auschwitz slave labor.

Despite this, and despite the fact that every other U. S. Attorney General has refused to return any of I. G. Farben's property, Bobby Kennedy has now completed a deal whereby $60 million will revert to Interhandel.

The big mystery is — why? Perhaps Sen. Ken Keating, R-N. Y., a member of the Senate Judiciary Committee with a good record on religious fairness, should investigate.

Demands A Commission

Meanwhile, a side court action has been filed in the U. S. District Court in Washington which sheds some light on the dicker-ing over I. G. Farben's property in the USA. It's a petition to get a slice of the profit from the sale of General Aniline & Film, filed by Robert A. Schmitz, an American whose uncle, Herman Schmitz, was convicted as a war criminal for building the I. G. Farben plant alongside Auschwitz in order to use Jewish slave labor. Robert Schmitz's father, Detrick, was the head of General Aniline, I. G. Farben's property in the USA.

He now claims a 5 per cent commission for helping arrange the sale of General Aniline stock and tells an interesting story about the scramble to get hold of this valuable property. Between 1947 and 1958, Schmitz says, he was successively authorized to act as agent for Remington Rand, headed by the late Gen. Douglas MacArthur; the Atlas Corporation, headed by financier Floyd Odlum; Shields and Company; W. R. Grace and Company; Food Machinery and Chemical, all anxious to obtain this valuable property.

Schmitz also tells how in December, 1958, it was decided to pick an important American to negotiate with the U.S. government — namely Charles E. Wilson, former President of General Electric, who had served as chairman of the war production board and was President of Ike's People-to-People Foundation.

Wilson served without pay, according to Schmitz, because he believed in Interhandel and looked upon the confiscation of I. G. Farben's property as against U.S. interests — also illegal and immoral.

But in the summer of 1961, Robert F. Kennedy had become Attorney General and appeared to reverse the policies of all previous Attorneys General that the General Aniline and Film property should not be sold back to any organization having ties with I. G. Farben. Previous Attorneys General had consistently ruled that Interhandel was a cloaking operation for I. G. Farben.

When Bobby Kennedy took over, the help of Charles E. Wilson was no longer considered necessary. Interhandel felt confident that with Kennedy running the Justice Department it would be able to obtain the property which other Attorneys General, both Republican and Democratic, had refused to relinquish.

So Wilson was given the hint to bow out. He did so in November, 1962.

Just why Bobby Kennedy reversed long-time U. S. policy and permitted part of I. G. Farben's valuable property to go to Interhandel still remains a mystery. But gruesome reminders of Auschwitz are revived as a result of Robert Schmitz's petition for what he describes as a "reasonable balance" of $150,000 for his part in negotiating the partial return of I. G. Farben property of the Swiss cloaking company for I. G. Farben.

Belated Recognition
When the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, highest tribunal of American business overwhelmingly passed a resolution endorsing trade with the Communist nations, Cyrus Eaton of Cleveland might have said: "I told you so."

Beginning about ten years ago, Eaton, a Midwest banker and chief stockholder of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad, had argued that the best way to handle Communist nations was to trade with them, talk to them, exchange cultural and economic ideas with them.

Eaton is one of the wealthiest and most successful businessmen in the Midwest, had no love of Communist doctrine. But he did believe that the peace of the world depended on better understanding and trade between the No. 1 capitalist nation and the No. 1 communist nation.

He went to Moscow, also entertained Premier Khrushchev when he came here to see Eisenhower in 1958, also arranged for various other big businessmen to confer with Khrushchev.

As a result, Eaton was pilloried and picketed in his home town. For a long time his name was mud. The other day, the august U. S. Chamber of Commerce went on record overwhelmingly for the trade policy Eaton began advocating ten years ago.

COVINGTON TIMES HERALD: It's No Wonder. — Indonesian President Sukarno reportedly canceled a scheduled trip to Macassar in Southern Sulawesi this week without making an explanation. Informants said Sukarno has been suffering from an inflamed toe.

In view of his recent statements to and about the United States ("To hell with your aid.") it's really no wonder. A rabid man can't expect to keep his foot constantly in his mouth without having at least one toe come off a little the worse for the experience.

Candidates Running In Dizzy Circles

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — The 1964 presidential primaries are as dizzy as any in memory.

Some voters like best the man they know least. For some non-candidates hope is their oxygen tent. Actual candidates get re-buffed and rehabilitated.

Take Alabama's Gov. George C. Wallace. He's been running in Democratic primaries without a chance for his party's nomination which at this point belongs entirely to President Johnson.

Wallace said last March: "I have no illusions about becoming president." He said he was just running to express opposition to Johnson's civil rights program.

But after he got 33 per cent of the Democratic vote in the Wisconsin primary and 29 per cent in Indiana, he switched to: "I am a serious candidate." Today he was running in the Maryland primary against a stand-in for Johnson.

Then there's former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who lost the 1960 presidential contest and the race for the governorship of California in 1962. He said that was "my last campaign for public office."

As if to show he meant it, he moved to New York and said "under no circumstances" would he accept a draft. Came 1964 when the political sap stirred in the states' presidential primaries.

Without setting foot in New Hampshire, he got 17 per cent of the vote there, finishing behind Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, and New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Now he was saying, "I will play whatever role the party decides" although still insisting he was not seeking the nomination.

In Pennsylvania, Gov. William W. Scranton, who has won some modest votes in state primaries and did well in his own state, repeats he's not a candidate while refraining from saying he won't accept the nomination.

Lodge was the stunner in more ways than one. He ran unsuccessfully for the vice presidency in 1960 but has been out of politics since. Now 3½ years later, probably few know what he stands for.

Yet, while in Viet Nam, never saying anything, he beat Goldwater, Rockefeller and Nixon in New Hampshire with a write-in vote, although the first two had actively campaigned there.

There was only one conclusion: Even though the voters there knew very little about Lodge they preferred him to the ones they had seen and listened to.

Before Oregonians cast their ballots last week polls indicated Lodge would wind up the No. 1 man there, too, even though Rockefeller and Goldwater were actively running there and he wasn't.

Rockefeller campaigned the state. Goldwater, smelling defeat, stayed away. Rockefeller came in first, Lodge second, Goldwater third, Nixon fourth. This was fresh life for Rockefeller. He hadn't been doing well.

His divorce and remarriage were expected to ruin him and professional Republican politicians, not the sentimental type, stayed away from him. Goldwater was their boy. He looked like the winner in the end.

But the Oregon results gave everyone second thoughts, for the very important California primary was coming up June 2. Rockefeller and Goldwater are on the ballot there, but not Lodge, and write-ins are not permitted.

Monday, the Lodge people, hoping to stop Goldwater, threw their California support to Rockefeller, not because they want him to get the nomination but because they think that if Goldwater loses in California maybe Lodge can get the nomination at the Republican convention in July.

Washington Viewpoint

East Germany Restive; U.S. Watches for Blowup

BY RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — Some U. S. strategic planners are watching for a blowup in East Germany.

Their agents report increasing signs of discontent.

In Czechoslovakia, Poland, Romania and Hungary, the Communist rulers have been forced to relax their controls a little.

There is more independence in their business and industry, more approaches to the West for closer commercial and diplomatic relations. There has been more freedom to associate with Western peoples in these countries.

Even more important, U. S. diplomats report there has been more freedom of personal speech and action (compared to the past, that is. Freedom, of course is still slight when compared with the freedom in Western democracies).

THESE U. S. ANALYSTS see a general weakening of the ability of the Communist governments of the Eastern European countries to handle their people. The American experts expect this weakening to continue. They therefore expect the Soviet Union to keep a huge military force in Eastern Europe, even if Khrushchev cuts back Russia's army overall.

U. S. officials see the possibility that several of the Eastern European countries — Romania, Hungary and Czechoslovakia — may be reaching for a more independent status within the Communist bloc.

The U. S. planners are determined to egg this shift along, through trade, aid and propaganda. These officials are certain they cannot swing these countries away from communism short of a war. But they believe the more they can help to weaken the "monolithic unity" of the Soviet bloc, the better for the United States and the West.

THE SAME PRESSURES for more freedom exist in East Germany. But the East German Red rulers have rigidly held the line.

Says one U. S. official: "Things are happening under the surface in East Germany. The situation is made even more tense because the East Germans know what's happening in the rest of Eastern Europe. They see no reason why they can't get these same relaxations. Something could blow there any time."

"And if it does blow, it would certainly put pressures on the Russians, the West Germans and ourselves."

"We think the Russian troops would put down any uprising hard and ruthlessly. We're not certain the West Germans would stand still for that."

"This would put us through a lot of soul-searching here on what to do."

U. S. PLANNERS haven't made up their minds yet what the United States should do if and when the East Germans do rise up in strikes, street demonstrations or revolts.

To act might lead to war, they say. To not act might lose the United States the faith of peoples in Eastern Europe and around the world who want freedom from Red repression.

It might result in less will to fight the Reds in South Viet Nam, Africa and in Latin America. The planners are still stinging from the reproaches that resulted from U. S. failure to act positively during the Hungarian and East German uprisings several years ago.

The plain and simple fact is that the United States is no more prepared to handle an East German or any other East European uprising today than it was the last time.

But policy men are working on the problem.

The Mature Parent

Listen to Her Backtalk

By Mrs. Muriel Lawrence
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: — My girl, 11, has always been rebellious with me. When she was smaller she had tantrums if she didn't want to do what I said. Now she gives me arguments. Even when her father backs me up and makes her do what I say, she has to shoot her mouth off at me anyway. My husband says why do I let her get under my skin like I do but he isn't around her all the time as I am. . .

ANSWER: Think back to the moment when she starts arguing. Does something happen to you which you haven't noticed? Do you hear the echo of a voice that used to say things like this to you when you were a little girl: "That will be all out of you. . . Do what you're told and no more backtalk! . . . Hurry up now and no more arguments. . ."

I'm almost sure you do. I think that whenever your child starts protesting what you've asked, you can't listen to what she is saying because you are so busy listening to the echoing voice of the grownups of your childhood who formed your idea of The Right Thing to Do With Children's Arguments. So you suffer when you can't shut your daughter up as you were shut up by your childhood grownup. You feel that you are a bad, incompetent mother because you can't do The Right Thing to Do With Children's Arguments—and satisfy the moral view of that echoing voice.

Its owner was not God. She could have been mistaken. Her view of the right treatment for children's arguments could have been tyrannical and stupid.

I wish you would question it with me. I wish that you would remember that even people charged with criminal offenses are granted their right to argue their point of view. They are even encouraged to hire lawyers to argue it. No matter how terrible is our suspicion, the law insists that we listen to all their backtalk before we decide whether they are guilty and bad.

Yet you cannot give this listening attention to your daughter's viewpoint. Please, open your mind to a view of protesting children other than the one implanted in you long ago. When the fussing starts over some obedience try saying:

"All right, what is the best reason you have for not wanting to hang up your coat? If I think it makes sense, too, I'll hang it up for you. If I don't, you know what will have to be done. Now, what is your reason?"

We the Women

Reflect: You're His Mirror

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Behind every "misunderstood" husband is a wife who is all-too - understanding.

When a man goes around letting any sympathetic woman in on the fact that his wife doesn't understand him, what he really means is that she understands him too well for comfort.

Give a man the idea that you know him even better than he knows himself, that you can put your finger on the real reasons back of the excuses he gives for his behavior, that you know both the best and the worst about him; do those things and you've put him at an awful disadvantage. He'll cling stubbornly to what he wants to believe about himself, and decide you don't understand him at all.

A man's idea of an understanding woman is one who takes him at his word, who doesn't probe to find out what makes him tick, who credits him with the highest motives and is quick to assure him that the way he handled a situation was in the best manner possible. What he means by "understanding" isn't understanding at all, but a mere reflection in a woman's eyes of the picture of himself that most pleases him.

It's all right for a wife to understand her husband—if she keeps quiet about what she knows about him or thinks she knows.

The trouble comes when she is so proud of herself for having figured him out to her entire satisfaction, she can't help letting him know how well she understands him.

That's when he starts looking for a woman who "understands" him.

Victory Puts Phillies Back To 1st In National League

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The ladies of Houston got 186 runs for Ken Johnson.

The Colts got nary a one.

Philadelphia's Jim Bunning proved most ungently to the ladies and the Colts Monday night, ruining a "Runs for Johnson" promotion by allowing Houston only one hit in a 4-0 victory that sent the Phillies back into first place in the National League.

The Colts staged the promotion in an effort to produce runs for Johnson, the no-hit, no-luck knuckleballer who went into the game with a 3-3 record. In the three losing efforts, including a no-hitter, the Colts had managed only two runs for Johnson.

The result also was simple:

Richard Semkin, Alan Mark, Jr. Win Trophies

Richard Semkin, Jr., won the Senior High Boys Intramural Tennis and Hand Ball Championships and also was co-champion with Alan Mark, Jr., in doubles play in the same sports.

The two boys were presented cups for their achievements at the annual S-C recognition assembly recently.

The cups were wooden trophies with men holding a torch. Semkin won the single hand ball and single tennis award and the double hand ball and double tennis award.

When he first signed up for these sports he didn't think he had a chance of winning them but he decided to try his best in all the sports. He progressed through his list of opponents in singles play and as he noticed how good Mark was the idea occurred to him of trying to win all four championships. With this incentive he had something to really aim for.

Mark is in the same gym class with Semkin. As they were playing tennis one day Coach Wes Sanders commented on how well Mark played and Semkin agreed with Sanders and then they agreed to team up together. Mark won doubles hand ball and tennis championship. Trophies were donated to S-C by S&M Athletic Store.

Sanders is head of the intramural program, which is a concentrated effort to encourage all S-C students to participate in athletic exercise.

Throughbred Horses Die In Big Fire

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Officials hoped to determine today exactly how many thoroughbred horses died from fire that turned Miles Park Race Track into a blistered arena of panic-stricken animals.

As best as could be determined Monday night, 17 thoroughbreds perished in the flames Monday afternoon, five more were injured and had to be destroyed and another died of a heart attack.

The flames, thrown from barn to barn by winds, drove the horses into stampede, their charges scattered firemen trying to douse the flames and their hooves sent up dust in choking clouds to mingle with the smoke.

Grooms, trainers, and stable hands led others of the some 600 horses to safety, including Devil's Advocate, one of the biggest winners at small tracks.

Twelve horse barns and one feed barn were destroyed by the fire, which started in a tack room of one barn. Track general manager Horace Wade estimated damage to barns at $100,000 but said it could go higher. No figure was available on the value of the horses lost. None was believed to be of great value.

Four firemen were overcome by smoke or heat, or burned slightly, in battling the blaze.

At one time about 250 horses ran loose on the grounds. Those that had to be destroyed injured themselves in terrorized lunges against fences and other obstacles. Some animals got out of the track area and onto nearby streets and highways.

Plan Strategy Before Practice For Grand Prix

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Dan Gurney, who will drive one of the three Lotus-Fords in the 500-mile Memorial Day auto race, revealed his planned strategy before taking off to practice for the Dutch Grand Prix at Zandvoort next Sunday.

"I intend to drive as hard as I can from the start and hope for a good pit stop," Gurney said Monday. "There can't be any other strategy against this field."

The Costa Mesa, Calif., driver ran second through part of last year's 500 and probably would have finished third behind winner Parnelli Jones and Scot Jimmy Clark except for several bad pit stops. An extra stop to fasten a fuel tank cap dropped him to seventh.

Gurney practiced more than 150 miles Monday at speeds up to 154.2 miles per hour, using gasoline instead of the alcohol blend on which he qualified for the No. 6 starting position at 154.5 m.p.h. The gasoline reportedly reduces speed but gives more miles per gallon.

seven-hitter as Pittsburgh ended Don Drysdale's five-game winning streak by defeating the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-2.

Detroit edged Washington 7-6 in the only American League game scheduled.

Bunning got the only run he needed in the fourth inning when Johnson was touched for singles by Wes Covington, John Herrnstein and Bobby Wine. The Phillies added two runs in the fifth when Richie Allen doubled, John Callison singled and Tony Gonzalez doubled. Gonzalez doubled in another run in the seventh after Allen singled.

Johnson struck out nine and allowed nine hits before being replaced in the eighth inning.

The Mets had been unable to score against San Francisco pitching for 31 innings and trailed 1-0 in the eighth when Bob Taylor singled, Rod Kanehl beat out an infield hit and George Altman homered. That provided Galen Cisco with the victory and tagged Bob Shaw with the defeat.

The Giants used Willie Mays as a defensive replacement in the eighth inning. Mays got to bat only once, flied out and had his average trimmed another four points to .407.

Trailing 2-0, the Pirates struck for three runs in the sixth. A double by Dick Schofield and Bill Virdon's single scored the first run off Drysdale in 17 innings. A single by Roberto Clemente and a walk that filled the bases chased Drysdale. With Ron Perranoski pitching, Gene Freese hit a sacrifice fly and Don Clendenon stroked a single to push the other runs across.

The Tigers defeated the Senators despite two homers and four runs batted in by Don Lock. Gates Brown and Norm Cash each collected three RBI for Detroit. Brown doubled home the tying runs in the ninth before Cash doubled home the clincher.

CATV (Continued from Page One)

Kan. Robert Fritz, represented this firm.

When the matter was opened for discussion Brown and Durley desired to grant the floor to Wesner, who declined, saying "I was first at the last meeting." After it was evident Wesner was not going to begin the discussion the three suggested the new applicant present its case and Fritz took the floor.

He reviewed the matter and told the council of his firm's proposal and offered an ordinance upon which the council could act. He pointed out Commonwealth Theatres had been doing business in Sedalia since 1948. He said the firm would install a 700 foot tower to receive the TV signals which would be carried by coaxial cables to its clients in the same manner as the other applicants' system would do. He also said the firm was willing to pay the City from two to three per cent on gross income.

Installation charges by this firm would be between $10 and $20 and the cost of the service per month at $5.95.

Wesner, called by the Mayor, again deferred comment until the others had spoken. Durley presented his proposal and reviewed the matter as offered at a previous meeting. He said his firm would not make any installation charges for those who took the service during construction, or 30 days afterwards, and customers would be given 15 days free service. Then an installation charge of $10 would be made.

Durley emphasized that "KMOS-TV ownership is out of town and money going to them is going out of our city."

Brown said that Channel 6 (KMOS-TV) blacks out Channel 5 (KCMO-TV) and it was impossible to get the Kansas City Athletics-New York game last Sunday. He told of talking with Dr. Thomas Norris, superintendent of the Sedalia public schools, and the firm he was representing offered free installation and free services to public, private and parochial schools for educational channels.

Brown said Dr. Norris made no comment either favoring or opposing the proposal.

He pointed out his firm now has in operation the system at Falls City, Neb., Columbus, Neb., and Marysville, Mo., with franchises at Chillicothe, Booneville and Marshall. "We want the business, but if we can't have it we feel somebody should have it," Brown said.

Brown criticized the survey made by the Jefferson firm as "one asking a negative set of questions."

Wesner referred to television antennas on private homes as these "ugly things." He told television service and repair men present they would be selling more color TV sets than ever before and his firm was not interested in selling or servicing sets.

"My client is ready and willing to spend a half million dollars to install the system in Sedalia," Wesner said.

E. K. Hartenbower, vice-president of the Meredith Broadcasting Co., and general manager of KCMO, had a motion picture shown which told the story of CATV. He said the system would carry Channels 6, 13, 8, 4, 9 and 5, as well as two educational channels — the Missouri Educational Channel and Channel 19.

He said installation would not exceed $25 and the monthly cost would be $5. "We hope for an exclusive franchise for a 10 year period," he said.

John Burrus, Jefferson City, representing the Jefferson Television Co., told council that CATV was a forerunner of paid television and would eliminate free television in time. He referred to a survey completed recently. Burrus also said that CATV does not come under any regulatory agency like public utilities and governed by the Public Service Commission.

Claude Knight of Knight's TV Service explained why TV Service men and business men felt that if an exclusive franchise was granted it should be voted upon like any other franchise.

Robert Ferguson, president of the Television Electronic Service Association of Central Missouri, and Vice-President of the State Association, told the Council the Central Missouri group opposes CATV. He said Governor (John) Dalton had written a letter, on file in Columbia, opposing the system.

J. L. Lobaugh, 1020 South Kentucky, said: "As a private citizen of Sedalia and not interested financially or any other way, I am opposed to this system. If this franchise is granted, gentlemen," Lobaugh said, "and anything goes wrong, the public will be looking at you, not the firm which has the franchise. You'll have to face it," he concluded.

Robert Blosser, general manager of KCRG-TV and KMOS-TV, (Jefferson Television Co.) was asked by Councilman Walter Jesse, "Do you folks plan on moving KMOS-TV?"

"That is a difficult question to answer. The station justifies remaining here because of national advertising. We could not move without permission being granted by the FCC," Blosser replied.

In a rebuttal, Burrus asked council to figure along with him just what the CATV would take from Sedalia. He said "One firm said it hoped in a five-year period they would have 60 per cent of Sedalia's televisions on their cable. But we'll figure there are only 7,000 televisions in the area, but they have indicated well over this figure. Now figure they get 50 per cent of the sets, that's 3,500."

"Multiply this by $6, that's $21,000 a month, and multiply this by 12, and it figures $252,000 in a year. They say the cost of installation is between $300,000 and a half million."

He said Public Utilities are not permitted by the Public Service Commission to gross such a percentage on investments.

Mayor Studer asked if there was any action the Council desired to take, then suggested a committee make an investigation.

Councilman Robert Bader said he had heard a lot of things repeated and "before I make up my mind I would like to check into this further."

Bader moved the mayor call a special meeting at which the Council could discuss the matter more thoroughly and if necessary have a committee visit some places where the systems are in use. We should have a special meeting where we can hash this out ourselves," he said.

Councilman J. C. Griffin remarked, "I'll never vote for a 2-per cent tax."

The motion was passed and the mayor said he would call the meeting, but did not indicate when.
